XSi Announces SmartSourcing™, a Maintenance and Support Portfolio

ATLANTA, GA, June 2, 2008 – XS International, Inc. (XSi) provides comprehensive, flexible services and support for all hardware maintenance needs. XSi SmartSourcing™ provides a portfolio of cross-platform service offerings, including hardware and network maintenance, operating system support, warranty services, integration services, and asset management, that can be tailored to meet a customer’s support needs. XSi SmartSourcing™ allows customers to save 20% - 70% off OEM maintenance prices and get a higher degree of empathy and service satisfaction.

“XSi’s SmartSourcing™ portfolio eliminates the need to deal with multiple OEM service organizations,” said Todd A. Bone, CEO of XS International, “through a network of over 24,000 support technicians, XSi is able to deliver expertise and resources for a broad range of IT Services in North, South, and Central America, Western Europe, Asia and the Pacific Rim.”
